No matter what kind of insurance you have, we can provide information about resources available that may be able to help cover the costs for STRENSIQ.

If you have commercial insurance, you may be eligible for the Alexion OneSource CoPay Program, which may be able to help cover some out-of-pocket treatment costs.

To be eligible, you must:

- ✓ Be signed up for patient services through OneSource
- ✓ Have commercial insurance

- ✓ Reside in the United States or its territories

Talk to your healthcare provider, OneSource, or PANTHERx Rare for more information about financial assistance.

Injection Support

It may take a little time to get used to injections. We're here to support you as you prepare. If you have any questions about self-injecting or STRENSIQ, please reach out to OneSource or PANTHERx Rare.

In the meantime, here are a few tips that may help:

- ✓ Ask questions: It's important that you're informed and prepared for this transition. So don't be afraid to ask questions
- ✓ Set routines: One way to remember your injection is to do it at the same time every treatment day, in the morning before breakfast or at night before going to bed
- ✓ Get help: It may be helpful for a parent or caregiver to watch your first few self-injections so you can feel more confident
- ✓ Plan ahead: If you're traveling, pack your injection supplies and store your medication in your Travel Cooler (that can be obtained through your Alexion Case Manager). If needed, call airlines and hotels ahead of time to see if they can refrigerate your medicine

- immune-related effects. You may develop antibodies during treatment that may decrease how well STRENSIQ works. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get worsening symptoms of HPP including: difficulty breathing, difficulty walking, feeling tired, bone pain, stiff joints, or loss of appetite.

The most common side effects of STRENSIQ include local skin injection site reactions such as skin redness, bruising, color change, pain, itching, hardening of the skin (induration), swelling, and bumps. These are not all the possible side effects of STRENSIQ. For more information, ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist. Call your healthcare provider for medical advice about side effects.
